

A TRUE PRIEST
sung to the tune of The Rose of Allandale 2004

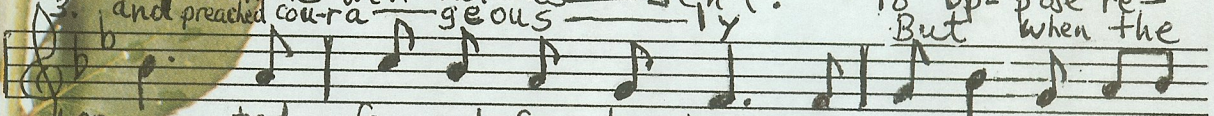

18 June 2004

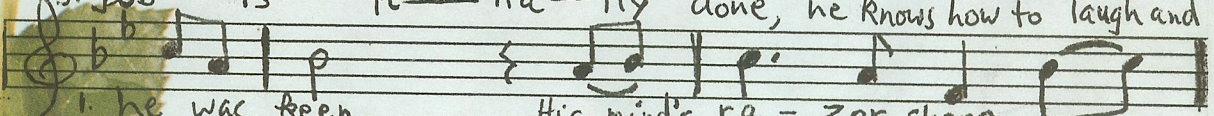

1. He's a hum-ble scho-lar versed in Ca-non law
2. He has al-ways du-ti-fully esch-ewed dis-sent.
3. He has al-ways worked as-si-du-ous-ly

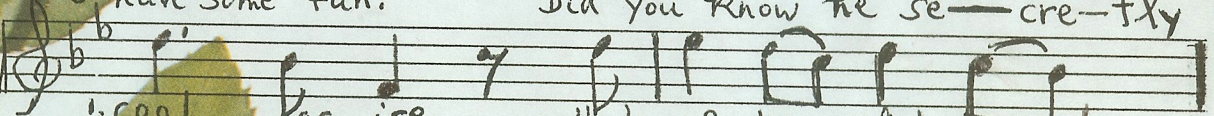

1. Many marr-riage ca-ses he's judged. But ann-ul-ments
2. To un-truth he will not as-sent. To op-pose re-
3. and preached cou-ra-geous-ly. But when the

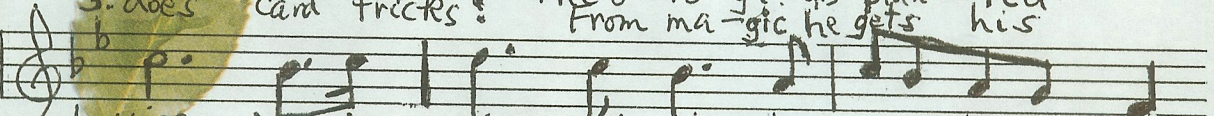

1. gran-ted few and far be-tween marr-riage vows to de-fend
2. bell-ion he seems Hea-ven-sent, for this cause much en-er-
3. job is fi-na-ly done, he knows how to laugh and

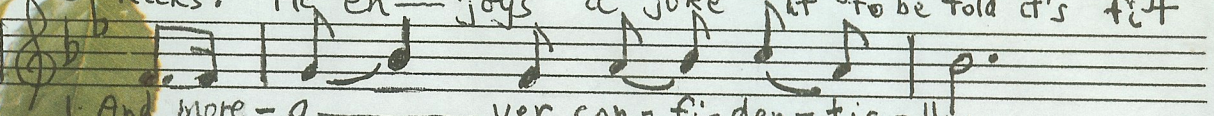

1. he was keen. His mind's ra-zor sharp and-
2. gy he's spent. When Hu-ma-nae Vi-tae
3. have some fun. Did you know he se-cre-tly

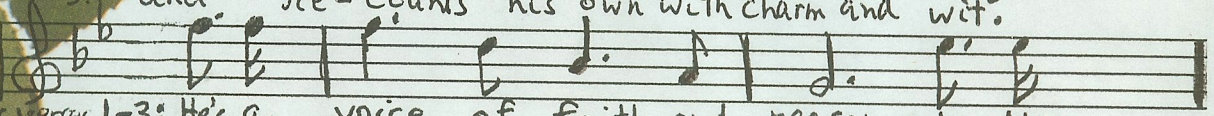

1. cool as ice He's of-ten asked for ad-
2. first came out the o-lo-gi-ans plan-
3. does card tricks? from ma-gic he gets his

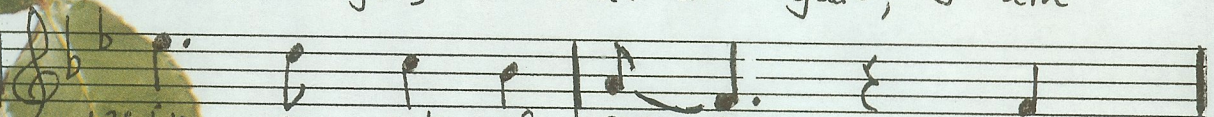

1. vice. And he gives it wise-ly, pru-den-tly
2. doubt. E-ven priests and nuns be-gan to di-so-bey
3. Ricks. He en-joys a joke if to be told it's fit

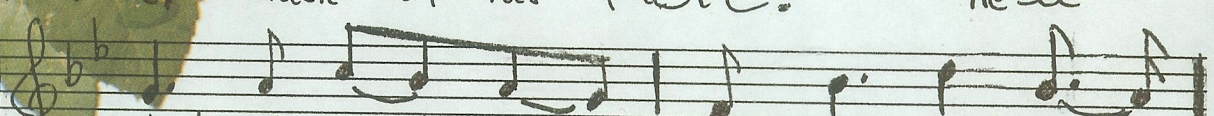

1. And more-o-ver con-fi-den-tia-ly.
2. But Ven-cent did it God's way.
3. and re-counts his own with charm and wit.

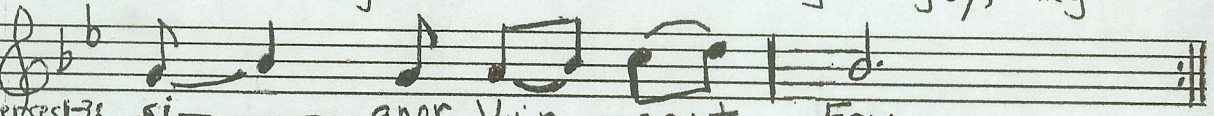

After verses 1-3: He's a voice of faith and reason, whether Final refrain: When he gets to Heav-en's gate, I am

After verses 1-3: in or out of sea-son.
Final refrain: cer-tain of his fate. He'll

After verses 1-3: priest of great love, hope and joy. That's Mon-
Final refrain: hear God say: "En-ter in-to your joys, my-

After verses 1-3: si-gnor Vin-cent Foy.
Final refrain: faith-ful ser-vant, Vin-cent Foy."